PRESIDENTS MESSAGE TO NVOC MEMBERS 19 APRIL 2024

Veteran Advocates

NVOC has an incorporated Board of Directors who are all veterans and who are all volunteers. We are not paid. The "True Patriot Love Foundation" funds support programs for Veterans and Military families. The CEO of the foundation was paid $421,149 in 2023 [as announced in the "Ottawa Citizen"]. https://truepatriotlove.com/

True Patriot Love is Canada's Foundation for the military community, working to support military members, Veterans, and their families at every stage of their journey. They work closely with the CF and Veterans Affairs.

The National Post is launching Heroes Among Us, a special series on Canadian military valour, celebrating courage in the presence of the enemy. Over the coming weeks, they will propose 10 heroic Canadians who could be the first-ever recipients of the Canadian Victoria Cross, created three decades ago as a homegrown version of the Commonwealth's highest award for valour. In conjunction with the True Patriot Love Foundation, Anthony Wilson-Smith of Historica Canada, Gen. (ret'd) Rick Hillier and entrepreneur/benefactor Kevin Reed, they will celebrate them all at a June 26 gala at the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Postmedia newspapers across Canada are featuring stories of Military operations. The Saturday 13 April example used was "The battle of the White School" on Aug. 3, 2006, in southern Afghanistan's Panjwaii district, west of Kandahar. This is one of the most recognized instances of military valour and courage under fire in modern Canadian history.

Veterans

For future reference NVOC will use the numbers quoted in the "SAGE" article: "According to Veterans Affairs Canada (VAC), as of March 2020, there were an estimated 629,300 veterans in Canada, which translates to approximately one in 50 Canadians, aged 15 years or older. About 32,100 of those are war service veterans from the Second World War or Korean War. The remaining 597,200 served after Korea.

VAC provides services to 187,101 veterans, including war service veterans, Canadian Armed Forces veterans, RCMP veterans and survivors."

NATO's baseline requirements. National Resilience

This is the first that I have heard of "NATO's baseline requirements for National Resilience". Civil Preparedness was once an important part of Canadian life?...is it still happening?

In 2016, at the Warsaw Summit, Allied leaders committed to enhancing resilience by striving to achieve seven baseline requirements for civil preparedness:

- 1) assured continuity of government and critical government services;
- 2) resilient energy supplies;
- 3) ability to deal effectively with uncontrolled movement of people
- 4) resilient food and water resources;
- 5) ability to deal with mass casualties;
- 6) resilient civil communications systems;
- 7) resilient civil transportation systems.

This commitment is based on the recognition that the strategic environment has changed, and that the resilience of civil structures, resources and services is the first line of defence for today's modern societies.

Clothing allowance

If you buy special clothes to accommodate your disability you may qualify for this allowance. For example, you may wear a brace, splint, or prosthetic that requires specially-made clothes, or that causes extra wear and tear. You can also use the monthly allowance to pay for your damaged clothes to be mended.

The amount of the allowance is based on a grade that reflects the nature of your disability.

To receive this allowance you must have a disability benefit for a condition that can impact your clothing.

Apply online

If you are registered for My VAC Account, you can submit your application for this benefit online. If you aren't registered, you can register now.

Mail or in person

Download the application form. Then, drop it off at a VAC office. You can also mail your completed application directly to the address listed on the form.

Attendance allowance: monthly payments if your health needs require personal care support.

Exceptional incapacity allowance: Disability pensioners who are exceptionally incapacitated may qualify for this tax-free monthly allowance.

Disability tax credit (DTC)

The DTC helps reduce the income tax that people with physical or mental impairments, or their supporting family members, may have to pay. It aims to offset some of the costs related to the impairment. Learn more about this non-refundable tax credit available through the Canada Revenue Agency.

If I apply for the benefit and get declined, can I appeal?

Yes. If you are not satisfied with a decision you may apply in writing for a review. Learn more about your review and appeal options.

Are there policies for this program?

Yes. Read more about the Clothing allowance policies.
